A photograph showing a landscape from an elevated perspective. In the foreground, a concrete balcony railing with a silver metal handrail runs diagonally across the frame. Below the railing is a gravel path that leads towards a wooden fence. To the left of the fence is a dense thicket of tall, dry, golden-brown grasses. The area between the fence and the gravel path is covered with green grass and some brown, dried vegetation. In the background, there are more trees and a wooden fence. The text "Lato Est" is overlaid in a bold, green, sans-serif font on the left side of the image.

A photograph of a grassy slope. In the foreground, there is a concrete drainage pipe with a metal grate. A wooden fence runs across the middle ground. The background is filled with tall, dry, golden-brown grasses. The text "Lato Est" is overlaid in the center of the image.
